Paralympic sled hockey competition is open to male athletes in the categories for amputees, spinal cord injured/wheelchair and cerebral palsy/brain injury/stroke. Just as in ice hockey, sled hockey is played with six players (including a goalie) at a time. Players propel themselves on their sledge by use of spikes on the ends of two three-foot-long sticks, enabling a player to push himself as well as shoot and pass ambidextrously. Rinks and goals are regulation Olympic-size, and games consist of three 15-minute stop-time periods.

Be there for Opening Ceremonies!

Come on March 27th vs. Toronto and watch the teams from around the world take part in the opening ceremonies at the TD Banknorth Garden. Receive $5.50 off all balcony seats and $10.50 off all loge seats.
